Family and household structure

In the 2016 Census there was a question about relationships between people who were in the household on Census Night 2016. These data were then used to work out family types, including single parent families and couple families, and whether there was more than one family living in the household. Some households may have had people living in them that are not related to each other—these are group households. Other households may have had only one person living in them—these are lone person households. This is based on occupied private dwellings.

Mortgage repayments by income

This section shows the median mortgage paid each week by households with a mortgage, by their household income. The median mortgage is the value whereby half the households pay less and half pay more. Median mortgage repayments have been calculated by Queensland Treasury. These data are from the 2016 Census and are based on occupied private dwellings.

Median mortgage repayments

$417 per week

Custom region

- Median mortgage repayment of $417 per week for households with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander persons
- Median mortgage repayment of $419 per week for non-Indigenous households

Queensland

- Median mortgage repayment of $433 per week for households with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander persons
- Median mortgage repayment of $433 per week for non-Indigenous households

Explanatory notes

Profile explanatory notes

Aboriginal persons and/or Torres Strait Islander persons

The question used on the 2016 Census of Population and Housing form was "Is the person of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander origin?" Respondents could report Aboriginal origin, Torres Strait Islander origin, both Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander origin, or neither.

Australian Statistical Geography Standard (ASGS)

A geographical framework covering all spatial areas of Australia and its external territories. The ASGS was developed by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) to allow statistics from different collections to be spatially comparable. The ASGS replaced the Australian Standard Geographical Classification (ASGC).

Cell confidentialisation

This profile utilises source data confidentialisation. This refers to datasets that have been confidentialised by the data custodians. For example census data supplied by the ABS have small cell counts of 1 or 2 confidentialised to 0 or 3 and a small random adjustment made to all data to avoid any risk of releasing identifiable information. Caution should therefore be used when interpreting data where the cell count is small.

Census 2016 data

Census data have 'small random adjustments' to ensure no data are released which could risk identifying individuals. As such, cells containing very small counts should be treated with extreme caution. Therefore discrepancies may occur between the sum of the component items and total.

Census undercount

Due to the size and complexity of the Census of Population and Housing, whenever a Census is conducted it is inevitable that some people will be missed and some will be counted more than once. After each Census, the Australian Bureau of Statistics conduct a Post Enumeration Survey to estimate the number of people who should have been counted in the Census and the actual Census counts. It is important to note, that all Census data reported in this profile do not have any adjustments made for Census undercount and readers should keep this in mind when making inferences from the data.

Dwelling

In broad terms, a dwelling is a structure intended for persons to live in it, and which is habitable on Census Night (9 August 2016). Examples of dwellings include houses, motels, flats, caravans, prisons, tents, humpies and houseboats. Private dwellings are enumerated using household Census forms, obtaining family and relationship data. Personal forms are used to enumerate non-private dwellings (for example, hotels and hospitals).

Equivalent household income

Equivalent income enables direct comparison of the relative incomes of households of different sizes and composition by adjusting household income according to an equivalence scale. For a lone person household equivalent income is equal to household income but for a household comprising more than one person, it is an indicator of the household income that would need to be received by a lone person household to enjoy the same level of economic wellbeing as the household type in question.

Indigenous person

Aboriginal peoples and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples are those who identified (in the 2016 Census of Population and Housing) as being of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander origin.

Indigenous status of household

A household with Indigenous person(s) is any household that had at least one person of any age as a resident at the time of the Census who identified as being of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander origin.

Land area

Land area, as stated in the Region overview, are based on the Australian Albers Equal Area projection (EPSG 3577).

Local government area (LGA)

A geographical area under the responsibility of a local government council or an Indigenous government council. There are 78 LGAs in Queensland.

Region overview

Statistics in the profile overview have been derived from data sourced to the Bureau of Meteorology and aggregated to administrative boundaries. Land area are based on the Australian Albers Equal Area projection (EPSG 3577).

Rounding

Figures are rounded to nearest whole number. Calculations (such as percentages and rates) are based on pre-rounded figures.

Topic explanatory notes

Household income

Household income is an equivalence-scaled measure of household income. While for a lone person household it is equal to household income, for a household comprising more than one person, it is an indicator of the household income that would be needed by a lone person household to enjoy the same level of economic wellbeing.

Overcrowding

The overcrowding table in this profile is based upon the ABS' 'Housing suitability' variable derived by the ABS for the 2016 Census of Population and Housing. This variable measures housing utilisation based on a comparison of the number of bedrooms in a dwelling with a series of household demographics, such as the number of usual residents, their relationship to each other, age and sex. The criteria are based on the Canadian National Occupancy Standard.

Work (employment) by industry

The industry of employment (for persons aged 15–64 years) is classified according to the Australian and New Zealand Standard Industrial Classification (ANZSIC) 2006 edition, revision 2 published in 2013.

Work (employment) by occupation

In the Census, occupation is collected for all employed persons aged 15–64 years. Occupation is coded using the Australian and New Zealand Standard Classification of Occupations (ANZSCO), 2006 edition, version 1.2 released 2013.

Year 12 or equivalent (20 to 24 years)

This measure is designed to ascertain the proportion of 20–24 year old persons who have attained a year 12 (or equivalent) or above qualification. Under the Australian Qualifications Framework, Certificate II is deemed to be equivalent to year 12.

Data in this table have been calculated according to specifications used for the National Indigenous Reform Agreement measure: PI 12a-Attainment of Year 12 or equivalent (Census data). As such the measure excludes, from both the numerator and denominator:

- People who did not have a year 12 qualification and also did not state if they had a non-school qualification (or whose level of education was inadequately described)
- People who did not state their highest year of school and also did not have a qualification at Certificate level II or above.

People whose level of study was determined to be certificate level but was not able to be further defined (that is, coded as Certificate nfd) are assumed to have attained below Certificate level II and have been excluded from the numerator.
